

How the status quo hurt Wisconsin doctors & hospitals

Studies show that Wisconsin and Minnesota doctors provide higher quality and lower cost health care than physicians in many other states.

Yet, under the status quo, they receive lower Medicare reimbursements than doctors and hospitals in other parts of the country.

That's why we pushed to change that. This bill begins the process of correcting Medicare reimbursements that are based on bad data and bad priorities. It's about time we begin to move to a different way of compensating medical providers for the quality of services they provide instead of the quantity of procedures they perform.

Return to Dave's Health Insurance Reform Information Clearinghouse